Eisenhower Signs Bill Cutting Excise Taxes

Reductions on Billion Dollar Measure In Effect Thursday

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower today signed into law a bill cutting excise taxes on a billion dollars a year and bringing lower prices on such items as household appliances and telephone bills.

The cuts become effective Thursday. The bill at the same time continues present excise tax rates on liquor, beer, wines, gasoline, automobiles, and cigarettes to yield an estimated $1,077,000,000 annually.

The tax cut means lower prices on such items as household appliances, jewelry, telephone bills, admissions, travel tickets, among other things.

The size of the cuts in dollars and cents will depend on the price of the product and the extent of the tax cut. The present federal excise — or sales — tax on jewelry, furs, cosmetics, luggage and handbags will be cut from 20 to 10 per cent.

Admission tickets costing more than 50 cents will be taxed at 10 per cent, instead of the present 20. Admission tickets costing 50 cents or less won't be taxed at all.

Congress Completes Action

Long distance telephone charges will be taxed at 10 per cent, instead of 25, and local charges at 10 per cent instead of the present 15. Home appliances will be taxed at 5 per cent instead of the present 10.

But the taxes on liquor, beer, wines, gasoline, automobiles and cigarettes will remain at their present rates. These also had been scheduled to be reduced Thursday but the legislation signed by the President will continue the existing rates on these items for another year.

Mr. Eisenhower had asked for continuation of these rates, but he did not ask for the cuts. Congress approved over the President's objections.

Continuation of the present rates on liquor, beer and the other items in that group will more than offset the revenue loss of the 999 million dollars in what they will yield an estimated $1,077,000,000 in the next year.

Congress completed action on the tax measure Tuesday. The House passed it by a vote of 395-1; the Senate by a vote of 72-8.

Warren Asks Retirement as U. S. Comptroller

Has Been Watchdog Of Gov't Spending Since Nov. 1, 1940

WASHINGTON (AP) — Comptroller General Lindsay C. Warren, watchdog of government spending through its biggest period in history, asked today to retire effective April 30.

He said failing health requires that he quit before the end of his 15-year term. He asked for disability retirement which, under a law passed last year, allows full pay of $17,500 a year.

In a letter to President Eisenhower, requesting retirement, Warren said he has worked a year "against strong medical advice and under much physical difficulty."

He attached statements from four doctors that he is no longer physically fit to continue the job and warning that to remain in office would shorten his life.

Rep. W. Sterling Cole (R-N. Y.), chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, and Senate Secretary J. Mark Trice have both been mentioned as possible successors. Trice is an active candidate and has the endorsement of the Senate Republican Policy Committee.

Reports Only to Congress

The job is a presidential appointment for a single term of 15 years. Once appointed, the comptroller general is completely independent of the executive branch of government. He reports only to Congress as keeper of the government's purse strings.

Warren, 64, was appointed comptroller general by the late President Roosevelt on Nov. 1, 1940. By April 30 he will have served in the post 13 years and six months.

During that period, which covered World War II, the Korean fighting and foreign military and economic aid, the federal government spent more than it had during its entire previous history. It was Warren's job, as head of the Government Accounting Office, to see that every penny was properly accounted for. He did it with a vigor which at times made him one of the most turbulent figures in the capital.

Federal Employees Decrease 209,300

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Service Commission today announced that civilian employment in government had decreased by 209,300 employees since the Republic came into office last year.

It said federal employees for February totaled 2,339,800.

The commission said more than one-half of all government agencies reported fewer employees or no change during the month.

Bargman Receives Treasury Pin For Bond Services

Walter J. Bargman, Saline county chairman of the U. S. Savings Bonds committee, today received a five year award pin for services rendered in that capacity to the Treasury Department. He was also given a letter from Roy Tuchbreiter, state chairman for the Illinois Advisory committee, thanking him for his outstanding services to his county and to his nation.

Mr. Bargman, who is office manager for the Sahara coal company, Harrisburg, served as Payroll Savings chairman for the Bond Division during the war years. This also was an outstanding service, as Saline county has bought over $1,000,000 worth of bonds each year. The same results are expected in this coming year.

The two presentations were made to Mr. Bargman by Glen F. Filley, area supervisor of the U. S. Savings Bonds Division.

Doom Outlines Water System To Kiwanis Club

Harrisburg's water system, its history, present use and estimated figures on the lake to be built, were outlined to members of the Kiwanis club last night at the Masonic temple by Amos Doom, superintendent of the city water department.

First city water was used entirely for sanitary purposes and not for drinking, he stated. Then the filter plant was built in 1913 and most of the equipment is still in use as the filtering process for water has changed but little through the years, he said.

In 1919 about 300,000 gallons of water were used daily and the peak at the present time is about 1,250,000 gallons daily. The CIPS built the first reservoir in 1919 and in 1923 the south reservoir, which the city now owns, was built.

Since 1940, Mr. Doom stated, use of water has increased tremendously because of the more modern way of living and the use of many newer water-using appliances.

Only engineering work is being done at present on the lake and the canvass of the recent vote on the bond issue will be made at the next regular meeting of the city council.

Billion Gallon Capacity

Plans include a dam 1,000 feet long at the top and 700 feet at the bottom. The base of the dam will be 230 feet and 20 feet wide at the top. The spillway will be 50 feet wide and 10 feet deep which could be boarded up to increase the capacity of the lake by five feet, Mr. Doom said.

The lake will have a billion gallon capacity which will mean about three or four year supply of water. The dam can be completed in eight or nine weeks after it is begun.

Mr. Doom stated the city is at present flushing the mains and the present discoloration of water will be eliminated in a few days. He praised the Blue Lake owners for their cooperation and stated the city is using entirely from Blue Lake at the present time.

Al Anson, a member of the Mt. Vernon Kiwanis club, was present at last night's meeting and urged the local club to approve a resolution favoring Mt. Vernon as a site for a new Kiwanis International headquarters which is under consideration.

He outlined the advantages to the area to have the international headquarters in southern Illinois and the immense project which it will entail. Following his address the club voted to support Mt. Vernon's campaign for the headquarters. A meeting will be held at Mt. Vernon Thursday night at which time three international trustees will be present and resolutions from various clubs will be presented supporting the Mt. Vernon club's project.

Dr. Harold Brown of Carrier Mills was a guest of Dr. J. D. Wimpsee at last night's meeting.

2 Fined After Auto Hits Parked Car

Donald Thaxton of Galatia today was fined $200 and costs of $11.40 when arraigned before Police Magistrate Charles McKenzie on a charge of driving while intoxicated.

He was arrested by city police when the car he was driving, owned by his companion, Al Absher, crashed into the parked car of Howard Logsdon in the 600 block of North Main street about 7:40 last night. Absher was fined a total of $65.60 on charges of illegal transportation of liquor and intoxication.

Also arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated was Logsdon, picked up around 12:30 a. m. after his car had run off in a ditch on West Elm street.

Lamkin Tells Lions of Army Reserve Unit

The U. S. Army reserve program was discussed by Lonnie Lamkin, Harrisburg reserve officer, at the Harrisburg Lions club meeting Tuesday.

Lamkin, a captain in the Army reserve, commands the 825th Replacement Company, a reserve unit with headquarters in Harrisburg and pointed out some of the advantages to being in the reserve, especially as it may apply to a young man.

It was pointed out that a young man may be in the unit when he reaches the age of 17 years and six months, with the consent of his parents. As a member of the unit he will receive the equivalent of basic training and also have an opportunity to work toward a promotion.

And when he becomes of draft age, if he so desires, he may request to be called to active duty and go into service with his reserve grade of corporal, sergeant or whatever grade he has reached.

The 825th Replacement Company is trained to operate as a reception center unit and could be in full operation within 24 hours if called to duty during an emergency, Capt. Lamkin stated.

The local unit is authorized seven officers and 33 enlisted men and is at full strength and carrying over strength at present nine enlisted men and two WACs.

In addition to being a vital part of the defense program, the unit also contributes to the economy of the area as all members of the unit receive pay for the duty performed. Each member is authorized a day's pay in grade for each drill period of two hours duration. The unit is authorized 48 drill periods a year and 15 days active duty during the summer.

Schedule Signing Of Jobless Claims By 47 Workers

Peabody 47 washer went down over the week-end for an indefinite period and a schedule was set up today for Saline county residents working at the mine to report to the Illinois Employment office here Friday to sign up for unemployment compensation.

Wallace Stewart, president of the No. 47 local which is UMWA Local 35, said that about 120 men are involved in the layoff and urged them to follow the schedule set up at the employment office.

He stated that those whose last names begin with the letters A through E should report at 8:30 a. m. Friday, F through K at 9:30 a. m., L through R at 10:30 a. m. and S through Z at 1 p. m.

Miners living in other counties should go to the employment offices in the counties in which they live, he said.

Chester Moore is vice president and Oral Johnson financial secretary of Local 35.

French Halt Red 'Human Sea' Assault

HANOI, Indochina (AP) — The payoff Communist attack of the Indochina war was stopped in its tracks today by the heroic defenders of the besieged French stronghold of Dien Bien Phu.

The outcome of the fierce battle which both sides describe as "decisive," still was in doubt as night fell on the scene of smoking guns, ripped and gaping earth and carnage.

But the French command said the defenders had won back most of the ground lost in the first 24 hours of the fanatical Red "human sea" assaults by screaming hordes of Red Viet Minh troops.

The ferocity of the attack by waves of swarming Reds against the eastern side of the cluster of French-held valley positions exceeded anything yet seen in Indochina. One post changed hands six times during the first 24 hours of bloody hand-to-hand fighting.

"One side or the other won't come out of this," one French officer said.

Hundreds of black and green-uniformed rebel bodies clogged the barbed-wire entanglements in front of the French guns. The attackers still were pouring forward, disregarding casualties officially described as "appalling."

At least two positions were breached in the first hours of the savage assault.

French artillery, firing as fast as sweating gunners could ram in the shells, brought down a curtain of protective fire within 50 yards of their own lines.

Machine guns traced interlocking trails of death across the devastated earth.

French pilots, flying U. S.-supplied planes, defied rebel flak to pound enemy concentrations with searing napalm and shattering explosives.

Strauss Reports At Conference By Eisenhower

AEC Chairman Says March 1 Explosion Was Under Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—Atomic Energy Commission Chairman Lewis L. Strauss said today at President Eisenhower's news conference that this country can now build a hydrogen bomb powerful enough to wipe out the entire metropolitan area of New York City.

Later the White House said Strauss meant that an H-bomb could put such a city out of commission—not level it.

Assistant Press Secretary Murray Snyder said Strauss made the explanation upon his return to the White House with Mr. Eisenhower. Snyder said that Strauss explained that "in using the phrase—take out a city—which Strauss had repeated as destroy a city—he meant to put a city out of commission—not level it."

Strauss appeared at the chief executive's weekly news conference to make the first public report in any detail on recent hydrogen bomb tests in the Pacific.

Strauss for the first time used the phrase "hydrogen bomb" rather than the previously favored description of "thermonuclear weapons."

Strauss said the important result of the tests was that this country has made such progress in the development of hydrogen bombs that it soon will be "more free to increase our impetus on the peaceful uses of atomic power."

Says Blast Under Control

Strauss said the March 1 hydrogen bomb shot at the Eniwetok proving grounds was in control, despite reports to the contrary.

He described it as "a stupendous blast in the megaton range."

A megaton bomb is one of one million tons of TNT equivalent. Rep. James E. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) of the House-Senate Atomic Energy committee has said the March 1 explosion was between 12 and 14 megatons.

Strauss' use of the destruction of New York as an example came after reporters beseeched him to describe the areas of the March 21 and March 26 shots and to give some picture of their effectiveness.

As for effectiveness in general terms, he said a hydrogen bomb could be made "as large as the military requirement demands—large enough to take out a city, any city."

"New York?"

"The metropolitan area—yes," he replied.

Soon Free for Peaceful Uses

Strauss spoke from a long, prepared statement in which he emphasized several points:

1. "One important result of these hydrogen bomb developments has been the effects of our military capability to the point where we would soon be more free to increase our emphasis on the peaceful uses of atomic power—at home and abroad."

Strauss, outside the language of his prepared text, added the recent hydrogen bomb tests had brought the United States "very much nearer to the satisfaction of military requirements."

2. Without attempting to minimize the effects of the March 1 blast, he said it was very large but "at no time was the testing out of control."

He said the "yield" from this shot was "about double that of the calculated estimate—a margin of error not incompatible with a totally new weapon."

Japanese in Danger Area

He denied that the March 1 blast, as widely and unofficially reported, destroyed an entire atoll or large island. He said what was destroyed was a large sandspit or reef that had been created specially for the test.

3. He said the 23 Japanese fishermen aboard the trawler Fortunate Dragon were definitely well within the marked-off danger area. Air, surface and radar search teams had not spotted the ship.

He said the condition of these fishermen was somewhat unclear because American doctors had not been permitted to make "a proper clinical examination" of them.

4. He said reports concerning widespread contamination of tuna and other fish did not conform to the facts of the situation. He said the only contaminated fish found were in the open hold of the Fortunate Dragon, and that U. S. Food and Drug Administration inspectors found no instance of radioactivity in any other fish shipments.

The tests will continue into next month. Several congressmen, it was learned today, plan to leave for the Pacific during the Easter holidays to see what one of them said would be "the big one" of the series. No congressmen witnessed either of the first two tests. It is understood that the tentative date for the big explosion, which may be preceded and followed by lesser blasts, is April 22, weather permitting.

The WASHINGTON
MERRY-GO-ROUND
By DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Reds And Nazis Resume 1939
Partnership; McCarthy Mouthings Useful As Commie Propaganda; Pro-Nazi Agents Masterminding Move To Undermine U. S. Democracy.

WASHINGTON — U. S. agents have dug up irrefutable evidence that the 1939 Nazi-Communist pact has been renewed, in effect, and that the Reds are again collaborating with unrepentant Nazis in a worldwide, underground network.

The evidence is also conclusive that the network has used none other than Sen. Joe McCarthy as a propaganda mouthpiece. For example, McCarthy charged the U. S.
Army with torturing German war criminals who had been sentenced for the murder of American prisoners. This happened to be the Communist line in Germany, and McCarthy's sensational charges were circulated by the Reds to stir up anti-American feeling among the German people.

Senate investigators traced the charges to Dr. Rudolph Aschen-auer, an ex-Nazi working with the Communists, who helped write Mc-Carthy's speeches and mailed them to him from Frankfurt, Germany, in large, brown, manila envelopes.
Aschenauer had three known agents in this country — Frederick Weiss, H. Keith Thompson, and Ulick Varange — who also represented the Socialist Reich party.
This was such a flagrant, pro-Nazi party that it was finally outlawed by the West German government. Yet, in spite of its Nazi trimmings, the S. R. P. was known to be drawing money and support from the Communists. Its vice chairman, Dr. Fritz Dorls, secretly visited Soviet headquarters in Karlsruhe, East Germany.

NAZI ADMIRERS MCCARTHY
Of the three pro-Nazi agents in this country, the best known is Weiss, who masterminded the National Renaissance Party, a group of fanatical anti-Semites with head quarters in Yorkville, N. Y. Weiss is one of McCarthy's most ardent admirers, yet at the same time is collaborating with the Communists. He spouts the Communist line on foreign policy, particularly against the European Defense Community, and his fanatical band is known to be infiltrated with Reds.

The FBI is most interested, however, in Varange, a mystery man who also goes by the names Francis Yockey and Frank Healy. He is known to be the author of a book on Fascist strategy, urging anti-American but not anti-Soviet activity. As for Thompson, he started out as a left-winger, switched over to the Nazis, and now claims to have broken with them.

Purpose behind the new Nazi-Communist partnership is to weaken democracy — an objective of both the extreme left and right.
Though the Neo-Nazis and Communists openly denounce each other, they secretly work together to tear down the democratic fabric.
This is done by the old, familiar method of spreading hate, fear, suspicion, and dissension.
A devastating, documented story on the world-wide link between communism and nazism appears in Reporter magazine, which went on the stands today. For example, the Reporter describes the Communist backing of the Neo-Nazi leader, Dr. Werner Naumann, who was nominated by Hitler to be Josef Goebbels' heir as propaganda minister.

REVIVES NAZISM
Naumann rallied the pro-Nazi splinter parties behind him in an attempt to resurrect the Nazi movement. He praised Senator McCarthy and denounced President Eisenhower. Finally he was arrested by the British on charges of plotting to overthrow the West German government. The plot was inspired, according to closed-door testimony, by a Communist agent.

Reporter magazine charges that the "explicit aim of the Naumann group was to establish a totalitarian West German government oriented toward the Soviet Union."
Naumann used a Düsseldorf export-import firm, the H. S. Lucht company, as a front for a worldwide political network which kept in touch with Nazi exiles in Spain and Argentina, as well as pro-Nazis in other countries. For example, Col. Otto Skorzeny, the rescuer of Mussolini, and Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, Hitler's former financial wizard, are connected with the company in Spain.

COIN AND SCHINE SUCCUMB
Two members of the Nazi-Communist underground in Spain also took in Senator McCarthy's two junior G-men, Roy Cohn and David Schine, during their spy-hunting junket throughout Europe last year.

One was Wolfgang Lohde, who filled the two with stories of Communist infiltration of Radio Free Europe. It later turned out that he had signed an anti-American manifesto circulated by a German

The other informant was Her-

GOP Candidates Favor 'America First' Policy

CHICAGO — Joseph T. Meek and Edward A. Hayes say that the idea of "America First" should be the keystone of U. S. foreign policy.

They are in the nine-man race for the Republican nomination for U. S. senator in the primary April 13.

Meek said at Danville that "America must come first, not only for our own good, but for the betterment of a free world. We must be sure to ally ourselves with only those nations which will help us build a free world and by their actions prove to us they want to be a part of the free world."

At Mount Vernon, Hayes said
"For too long a period of time we have had too many men in Washington who thought more of other nations than they did their own. We have cleaned most of these rascals out but we still have to get rid of more."

Charge Ruthless Politics
Austin L. Wyman and Edgar M.
Elbert concentrated on attacking
Sen. Paul H. Douglas, the Democrat who is running unopposed for reelection.

Wyman said that Douglas uses a "demagogic class against class appeal" in claiming that Republican tax reforms favor the wealthy.
Elbert told a Champaign audience that Douglas and other Democrats are "playing ruthless politics in their present about-face tactics in urging an increase in income tax exemptions."

Park Livingston announced that he is opening a downstate campaign headquarters at Champaign.
At Galesburg Tuesday, Livingston said he is the only candidate who has "the diversified support" for both a primary and a general election victory.

Julius Klein attacked Meek, president of the Illinois Federation of Retail Associations, claiming Meek represents a "special interest" in keeping retail prices up.

Never Undervalue Housewife's Role

MEMPHIS, Tenn. —
Keeping house is a noble profession. A judge has so ruled.
The opinion of Circuit Judge
Harry Adams came after Mrs.
George Rust, a juror, identified herself to an attorney as "just a housewife."

When the case was ended
Judge Adams stopped Mrs.
Rust in the corridor.
"What did you say your occupation was?" he asked.

"Housewife," Mrs. Rust replied.
"That's not the way you put it in reply to attorney's questions," Adams reminded her.
"You said, 'just a housewife.'
Like it was an unimportant job."
"Why, housewives have a big, important job. And it's a full-time job, too, because they're busy all the time."

ROBINSON, Ill. — Alex U.
McCandless, 73, founder and president of the Mahutska Oil Co., which drilled the first oil well in Illinois, died here early today after suffering a heart attack.

McCandless, who was born in the Bradford, Pa., oilfield area, came here in 1906 and that year founded the company which brought in the J. Shire well about 6 miles west of here which still is producing. He spent the first 11 of his 48 years in the oil industry working for a Pennsylvania firm which manufactured oil field supplies.

McCandless served on National Rubber Coordinating and Oil Production committees during World War II. He served two terms as president of the Illinois-Indiana Petroleum Assn. And in 1953 won second place in balloting for "the grand old man of the oil industry" at Tulsa, Okla.

McCandless was active in oilfield ventures in 15 states from Pennsylvania to California. He also was active in civic, banking and business affairs here.

McCandless, a bachelor, is survived by three sisters and a brother. Funeral services will be held here at 10 a. m. Thursday and the body will be taken to Pittsburgh, Pa., for another service and burial there on Saturday.

Illinois Jobless Claims Show Decrease in '53

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. — Illinois unemployment compensation beneficiaries decreased more than 40, 000 in 1953, Roy F. Cummins, director of the state Department of Labor, reported today.

Cummins said 242,422 workers received benefits last year as compared to 283,315 in 1952.

Claims for unemployment compensation last year totaled 383,192, Cummins said. More than 140,000 of the claimants did not receive benefits because they regained employment within a week or were ineligible because their wage credits were not at the $400 minimum.

In 1952 Cummins said, 19,058 persons filed claims for unemployment compensation.
Total unemployment compensation benefits paid in 1953 amounted to $51,318,764 as compared to $57,- 627,987 in 1952.

The average total payment last year was $211.69 and the average weekly payment was $23.37. In 1952 the average total payment was $203.41 and the average weekly payment was $22.25.

Weekly payments, Cummins explained, are determined by the wage credits established by covered workers.
Cummins said 35,309 workers exhausted all benefit rights in 1953 as compared to 44,845 in 1952.

The average number of weeks in which claimants were jobless was 7.7 in 1953 as compared to 8.3 in 1952.

Average duration of unemployment was 4.8 weeks last year and 5.2 weeks in 1952, Cummins said.
The unemployment compensation program in Illinois now embraces more than 3,500,000 workers and 65,000 employers, he said.

Russia Seeks Admission to NATO

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia proposed to the western powers today that she be admitted to the North Atlantic Pact, usually well-informed sources reported.

The proposal was said to have been contained in 10-page identical notes handed to the United States, British and French ambassadors by Russian Foreign Minister Vyacheslav Molotov.

Molotov called in Louis Joxe of France, Sir William Hayter of Britain and Charles E. Bohlen of the United States and turned the notes over to them separately.

The 14-nation North Atlantic treaty came into being Aug. 24, 1949, and provided for joint resistance against any aggression. Russia was not invited to join.

TRIUMPH OVER TRAGEDY—Actress Susan Ball and her fiancé, Dick Long, seem delighted after announcing they will marry on April 11, in Santa Barbara, Calif. The couple were forced to postpone their marriage earlier when Miss Ball underwent surgery for the amputation of her right leg. The plucky actress is determined to walk down the aisle at her wedding, even if she must use crutches.

Gene Tierney Hints She Will Wed Aly in Paris

ROSARITO BEACH, Mex. (AP)—Movie actress Gene Tierney switched a large diamond ring from her right hand to the third finger of her left Tuesday and hinted she was thinking of a spring wedding in Paris.

Her royal boyfriend, Prince Aly Khan, kept quiet on the subject of matrimony.

Miss Tierney, who came here with her mother to visit Aly, artfully dodged giving a yes or no answer to questions about whether she would marry the prince.

"If and when we are married it will be in Paris," she said, "and certainly not until I finish my current picture in May."

She was wearing a large diamond ring on the third finger of her left hand. The gem, a gift from the Moslem playboy, had previously been seen on her right hand.

Miss Tierney said she planned to go to Paris after completing her picture, "and undoubtedly I will be with the prince there."

The couple held a brief news conference beside the swimming pool of the plush Rosarito Beach Hotel, where Aly reportedly booked a $54-a-day suite of rooms under the name of "Mervin Taylor and party."

Avoids Rita's Attorneys

Miss Tierney, who held a brief rendezvous with the prince in Mexico City last week, arrived here early Tuesday from the Southern California desert location of her current picture.

"I rushed into one marriage and

Strike Halts Work On Oak Ridge Plant

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP)—Construction work on the Atomic Energy Commission's half-billion dollar gaseous diffusion plant was halted today by a strike of 650 sheet metal workers.

Approximately 6,000 AFL Craftsmen refused to cross picket lines of the metal workers who were demanding travel pay.

The five-day walkout is the second in recent months in which the workers have demanded travel pay increases. A strike in November was called off at the request of the international union after a three-week shutdown.

Report Thefts of Spare Tires, Wheels

Officers today reported an epidemic of spare tire and wheel stealing and urged motorists to be sure the trunks of their cars are locked.

On Monday night, officers said, there were three instances in Harrisburg and three in Carrier Mills of spare tires and wheels being taken from the trunks of cars.

I want to make no mistake this time," Miss Tierney said. The actress was divorced in 1952 from fashion designer Oleg Cassini.

Earlier Tuesday, a woman press agent for 20th Century-Fox Studio quoted Miss Tierney as saying she and the prince were "madly in love." When asked about this at the conference, the actress replied, "She was speaking for me."

Aly chose to meet her here rather than in the United States because attorneys for his former wife, Rita Hayworth, are waiting there to subpoena him in connection with Miss Hayworth's demands for support of their 4-year-old daughter, Yasmin.

UCLA Sitting on Some Volcanoes—Man-Made

LOS ANGELES — There are active volcanoes bubbling on the UCLA campus — tiny man-made affairs designed to study the way nature creates rocks deep in the earth.

This is the same process by which she produces volcanoes.

Dr. George C. Kennedy, who is conducting the study, points out that the work might go a long way toward locating new ore deposits in this age of dwindling mineral reserves.

The artificial volcanoes involve the use of electrical furnaces and pressures exerted by water and carbon dioxide. The furnaces subject certain elements to temperatures of 1,750 degrees Fahrenheit while pressure is applied up to 4,000 atmospheres, thus duplicating conditions eight miles below the earth's crust.

ATLANTA, Ga. — A man fined $100 for blowing an auto horn in Thunderbolt, Ga., has won his first legal victory in two years of litigation over the case.

Charles E. Rose, Jr., of Savannah, Ga., carried his appeal of the fine to the state's supreme court only to have it turned down on a technicality, but the court of appeals held a different view.

In a ruling on the man's later suit to recover the $100, the appeals court ruled he had grounds for a trial of his claim of having been illegally convicted by a municipal court of breaking a state law.

Judge Ira Carlisle said in his opinion:

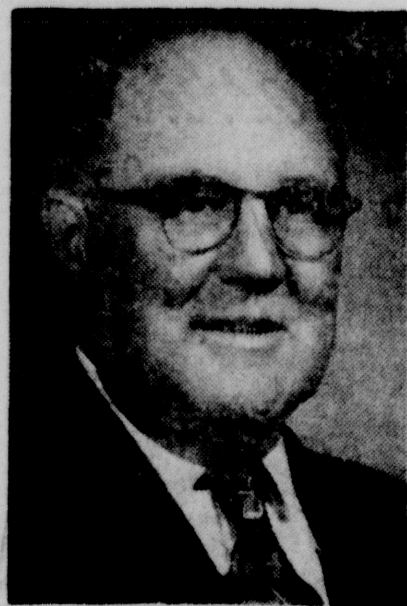

"We have had to study this case more than if it were a $50,000 damage suit. We had to hold several conferences and look up many old cases before we could reach a decision. Temperatures of 375 to 400 degrees are best for angel food cake baking. To check on baking time, lightly tap the cake with your finger. If it doesn't hold the finger mark, it is done.

Dolan Perjury Case Ready To Go to Jury

KANSAS CITY, Mo. — The case of St. Louis policeman Elmer Dolan, charged with lying about what happened to the $600,000 Greenleaf ransom money, was expected to go to the jury today.

Dolan was one of two officers who arrested Carl Austin Hall, the kidnap-killer of 6-year-old Bobby Greenleaf. Dolan was the only defense witness Tuesday.

Former Lt. Louis Shoulters, the other arresting officer, who has been tried next month on a similar perjury charge.

Dolan testified he brought two suitcases containing the ransom money found with Hall to the Newstead Avenue police station in St. Louis when Hall, who has been executed, was taken in to be booked.

Six government witnesses, who swore they were in the station the night of Oct. 6 when Hall was arrested, testified Monday and Tuesday that they did not see the suitcases at that time.

Money Still Missing

Less than half of the ransom, largest ever paid, was turned over to the FBI the day after Hall's arrest. The rest is still missing.

Dolan said he not only took the two suitcases containing the money to the station, but returned to Hall's apartment to pick up a third suitcase, containing the kidnaper's clothing, which he also took to the station.

One of the prosecution's closing witnesses, policeman Walter McDowell, testified he saw Dolan enter the station about 10:30 p. m., some 90 minutes after Hall was booked, with a large suitcase.

McDowell said he couldn't tell of what material the suitcase was made, but he thought it was green. One of the ransom containers was a green metal suitcase.

Two government rebuttal witnesses, Mrs. Jean Fletcher, manager of the hotel, and Mrs. Katharine Overstreet, then a hotel telephone operator, testified they did not see Dolan leave the hotel with a suitcase an hour and a half after Hall was arrested.

Oil Men Call for Protecting Highway Funds

A state constitutional amendment to prevent the use of state highway user tax money for non-highway purposes was strongly backed by the Saline County Petroleum Industries committee at a meeting held here March 30.

J. H. Higgins of Springfield, executive secretary of the state Petroleum Industries committee, gave an illustrated talk on the subject, "Your Unseen Competitor." During his talk he also brought out the fact that "by 1955, Illinois will have diverted $95,000,000 of its highway tax revenue to non-highway use, at a cost of nearly 2,000 miles of new or improved roads.

Twenty-four other states now have constitutional provisions banning this practice. So should we." In addition to the amendment protecting highway funds, the oil men's group adopted a program of objectives including: Keeping the state gasoline tax "reasonable"; repeal of the federal tax on gasoline; preserving the motorists' right to choose among various brands of petroleum products on toll roads and other expressways; "active support" for highway safety; and a special plan for keeping the public informed on the amount of gasoline taxes they pay by means of small signs to be posted on gasoline pumps.

Commenting on this point, Mr. Higgins said: "Unless the consumer is reminded of how much taxes add to the cost of gasoline, oil men can hardly expect the credit they deserve for holding prices to the level of 30 years ago. It is our plan to see that every gasoline pump carries a small sign telling the customer that he pays a total of seven cents in direct taxes on each gallon — in addition to the state's 2¢ general sales tax."

Officers elected at the meeting were: Geo. H. Davis, chairman; Victor Mitchell, vice chairman; and J. J. Gholson, secretary. The following will serve on the legislative committee: Lee Skaggs, Eldorado; Frank Parker, Harrisburg; Marvin Barnett, Harrisburg.

Pvt. John J. Chappell, son of Mrs. Grace Chappell, Shawneetown, is serving with the 43rd Infantry division in Germany. The "Winged Victory" division is receiving intensive training in southern Germany as part of the U. S. Seventh army. Pvt. Chappell, a cannoner in the 201st Armored Field Artillery Battalion's Battery C, arrived overseas in January from Camp Chaffee, Ark., where he completed basic training. He entered the army in July 1953.

Stengel Expresses 'Real Worry' Over Yankees' Poor Spring Showing

By United Press
Southpaw Whitey Ford was labeled the New York Yankees' No. 1 disappointment of the spring today as Manager Casey Stengel expressed "real worry" over the world champions' poorest spring showing in his six-year regime.

Ford, an 18-game winner in 1952 who is counted on this year for 20 victories, was pummeled for six runs in two-thirds of an inning Tuesday as the Philadelphia Phillies scored a 7-6 triumph over the Yankees. It was the second time Ford had failed to last an inning and marked the world champions' fourth straight loss and 15th in 23 exhibition games.

Stengel left the Clearwater, Fla., park muttering that he'd "have to do something" and other Yankee officials admitted they were concerned with the team's form.

Ford's most recent failure was even more disappointing because it followed unimpressive outings by Allie Reynolds and Harry Byrd. Ed Lopat, 34-year-old left-hander, has been the only member of Stengel's "big four" to produce consistently this spring.

Maglie in Form
The New York Giants, on the other hand, reached a new peak of optimism when curveballer Sal Maglie limited the Cleveland Indians to only one hit in six scoreless innings. The 37-year-old Maglie, who slipped to an 8-9 record in 1953 after compiling a 59-18 record in 1950-51-52, has been scored on in only one of the 20 innings he has pitched this spring and already has been named to hurl the Giants' opener.

The Indians tallied two runs off Marv Grissom in the eighth inning to gain a 2-1 decision but that failed to dampen Manager Leo Durocher's rosy outlook. It was only a month ago that Durocher

Savoie Meets Persley Tonight in Lightweight Bout

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (U.P.)—Armand Savoie and Arthur Persley, a couple of lightweights who want to get into the scramble at the top of the class, will square off at the St. Louis Arena tonight in a 10-rounder that means a lot to both.

The 135-pound class in boxing has become a hotbed of nervous activity at the title level. Jimmy Carter, who won the crown from Ike Williams, lost it to Lauro Salas, the pride of Mexico. Salas enjoyed the rarified championship atmosphere only until Carter got another crack at him.

Then Carter absorbed an artistic shellacking from Paddy De Marco, long a futile campaigner for the top spot. Currently new champion De Marco owes Carter a second chance to regain the title.

What will happen in that one is in the realm of speculation but whoever wins it might well tangle with the victor in tonight's brawl.

Savoie, who has 51 victories in 63 bouts, was favored over Persley because he has the more explosive punch. He has won 23 of his fights by knockouts and owns a 10-round decision over Carter. The ex-champ, however, reversed that decision with a fifth-round knockout last November.

Persley, a heavily-muscled Negro from Red Cross, La., has won 41 of his 46 listed fights. But he took only 11 of those by knockouts.

Both men were razor-sharp for their meeting, tapering off with light workouts Tuesday.

Surviving Brodie Twin is Trying To Learn to Walk

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Rodney Dee Brodie, 2½, is trying to learn to walk.

Doctors said that if he is a little slow in learning, it is understandable.

Rodney was born a Siamese twin. The top of his skull was joined to that of his brother, Roger Lee, who died after their surgical separation Dec. 17, 1952.

Rodney's progress has been watched attentively at the University of Illinois physical therapy department.

He took his first steps in a "walker," a sort of mobile platform used by many normal children in learning to walk.

Now he can walk with a wobbly gait while clinging to the hand of a nurse or therapist.

Rodney is handicapped because he cannot recognize objects by the sense of touch on his left side. Doctors said the only way he can tell when his left foot touches the floor is by sight.

They said it is impossible to tell how much the disturbance of his brain tissue will affect his coordination.

But they believe he may walk as well as any child who has had to overcome a crippling ailment.

Doctors said the child can grasp a toy with his left hand, but only if he looks at it, because brain impairment prevents him from recognizing it by touch.

Price of Butter To Drop Tomorrow In Nation's Stores

By United Press
Housewives in many parts of the country will be able to load their supermarket carts with 59 cent butter Thursday when government price supports slip to 75 per cent of parity.

The price had already dropped in some cities, but most retailers were holding off until Thursday.

Not all Americans will enjoy butter selling at 59 cents a pound, but the price will drop about 5 to 10 cents a pound in almost all markets.

The price of butter in Los Angeles, for instance, is not expected to go below 65 cents Thursday.

But the high cost of shipping it from the Midwest has kept retail prices high in that section.

Industry sources said the New York retail price would probably level off between 65 and 69 cents a pound, as contrasted to recent price ranges of 75 to 80 cents.

In November of 1946 the price of grade A butter rose to a high of one dollar a pound in New York. During most of the post World War II years it has stayed near the 80-cent level.

Few merchants cared to predict long-range price fluctuations. Most agreed they would be at the mercy of the wholesale price changes and of their competitors.

British concern was heightened by the explosion of a second thermonuclear device in the Marshall Islands testing site in the Pacific amid widespread protests of the awe-inspiring March 1 blast.

New NCAA TV Plan Protested By the Big Ten

Proposal Will Not Allow Panorama Telecast of Games

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (U.P.)—An NCAA television plan permitting telecasting of just one top game each week was awaiting approval by member colleges today, but almost immediately drew a protest from the powerful Big Ten.

The Big Ten said it was "deeply disappointed" in the TV proposal.

The plan was worked out here by a special NCAA committee and was submitted by mail to the membership Monday. It will become effective upon approval of two-thirds of the NCAA's members.

The principal difference in the plan from the 1953 program is that it will not allow any panorama telecasting—in which portions of several games were shown. Another is that the new plan carries no provision for telecasts where high interest has resulted in a stadium being filled to capacity.

Big Ten Urges "No" Vote
The 12-man committee which drafted the plan said that persons who bought tickets to sell-out games resented their outlay after discovering the game was to be telecast.

The Big Ten said in an official statement Tuesday night it was recommending that member institutions vote "no" on the proposal. It said it was "deeply disappointed" in the lack of regional coverage, as opposed to televising of one game nationally.

The new plan provides that:
1. A national game of the week shall be telecast on the 12 Saturdays between Sept. 18 and Dec. 4 inclusive. On Nov. 25, Thanksgiving Day, regional games may be telecast as desired.

2. Of the 12 Saturday games, at least one shall originate in each of the eight NCAA geographic districts, with no more than three from any one district. Preference will be given to teams which did not appear on television in 1952 and 1953.

One Appearance
3. Small colleges may telecast at will.

4. Member colleges may appear on "live" television only once in 1954.

5. Sponsors will make TV arrangements directly with competing colleges.

6. Member colleges may arrange for "live" telecasting of their games on any basis desired on Friday nights, Saturday nights and holidays, with the exception of Thanksgiving Day, provided the one-appearance rule is observed.

The committee said the nation's colleges and universities spend about 53 million dollars a year on intercollegiate, intramural and athletic programs and said gate receipts usually run only about $40,500,000. The difference must be made up from educational funds, and the committee said TV restrictions were necessary to keep the deficit at a low level.

Walt Byers, executive director of the NCAA, said ballots on the new plan must be returned by April 9 and that results would be made public soon after that date.

Senate Group Approves T-H Amendments Except For Strike Vote Proposal

By United Press
All but one of President Eisenhower's recommendations for amending the Taft-Hartley labor law were approved today by the Senate Labor Committee. Committee approval came over the protests of Democrats who cried "steamroller" because they were barred on a 7-6 party line vote from offering any amendments outside the scope of the administration program. There was no action on Mr.

Eisenhower's controversial plan to require government-supervised secret balloting before a union can call a strike. Committee Chairman H. Alexander Smith (R-N. J.) said some of the GOP members will sponsor such an amendment when the bill comes before the Senate.

Other congressional news:
Wire tap — The House Judiciary Committee approved legislation to let the government use wire-tap evidence in prosecution of accused spies, traitors, and saboteurs. The committee knocked out a provision which would have authorized use of wire tap evidence in kidnapping and extortion cases.

Housing—House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. said he expects Congress to let the administration go ahead on commitments for construction of about 70,000 public housing units in the next two years.

Agriculture—Benjamin H. Flory of Defiance, Ohio, president of the American Poultry and Hatchery Federation, told the Senate Agriculture Committee the nation should "accept the fact that we'll never be able to create the perfect farm price support program."

Statehood—Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland predicted an "easy" victory in the Senate for legislation to grant both Hawaii and Alaska statehood. The measure is scheduled to come to a vote in the Senate Thursday.

Trade: The President's new tariff reduction program has been placed into a congressional deep freeze where it is expected to stay for many weeks. Mr. Eisenhower's request for authority to trim tariffs by 15 per cent over the next three years is opposed by some powerful Republicans, including Rep. Daniel A. Reed (R-N.Y.) whose House Ways & Means Committee handles tariff legislation. The committee is expected to devote most of April to Social Security hearings.

McCarthy: Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said the Senate Investigating Subcommittee is not moving fast enough with its investigation of Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's row with the Army. He said he will renew his effort to have the armed services committee take over the inquiry if the subcommittee has made no progress by Thursday. The subcommittee has been unable to find a special counsel to guide the probe.

President Gives Full Support to Dulles Proposal

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower voiced full support today for Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' proposal that the free world take united action against Communist aggression in Southeast Asia.

Mr. Eisenhower told a news conference he read every word in Dulles' speech before the secretary of state delivered it at an Overseas Press Club meeting Monday. The President said he was in complete agreement.

Mr. Eisenhower was asked if united action means the United States would be ready to dispatch troops, if necessary. He said he could not give any general answer. But he said he could not conceive of anything worse than the United States dispersing its troop strength to meet each little war throughout the world. Each case, he added, would have to be decided on its own merits because each has its own degree of interest and danger.

He said that the best answer that he could give was one attributed to the French. The French told the Germans in 1914, he said, that France will do what its best interests dictates.

Still Favors EDC

In other news conference highlights Mr. Eisenhower said: 1. He still is all-out for the European defense community. Asked if he has any alternative should the European nations not approve the plan, Mr. Eisenhower said he does not fight the second battle before he has lost the first.

2. Both the Arabs and Israelis should restrain their extremists and use judgment to ease the Middle Eastern situation. For the time being, he said, the matter should not be taken before the United Nations Security Council.

3. He will sign during the day the bill to reduce excise taxes a billion dollars, effective Thursday.

4. The administration will keep alert to see no unjustified damage will be done if his reciprocal trade program is approved. Some adjustments are inevitable, he said, but the administration will be guided by a standard of best interest for all Americans.

5. He is well satisfied Congress will approve construction of 35,000 public housing units this year and next.

ILLINOIS ALL-STATE GRADE SCHOOL BAND—The second annual Illinois all-state grade school band concert was held Saturday, March 27, at the Conrad Hilton hotel in Chicago. Sixty-nine Illinois grade schools were represented, with Janet Thompson and Janet Jahn, eighth grade students at the Junior High school, representing Harrisburg.

Two Local Junior High School Girls Play in All-State Grade School Band

Janet Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Thompson, and Janet Jahn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Jahn, eighth grade students at the Junior high school, participated in the second annual Illinois all-state grade school band concert held last week end in Chicago.

Sixty-nine schools from Illinois were represented in the band, directed by Thomas S. Richardson, president of the Illinois Music Association, editor of the "Illinois Music Educator," and assistant professor of music at the University of Illinois.

In February the girls, chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Chunn, went to Champaign for a two-day rehearsal, and on March 25 they traveled to Plainfield where they were guests of the band parents. They were accompanied to Plainfield by Mrs. Carrie Barter and Mrs. Francis Jahn.

After rehearsing Thursday and Friday in Plainfield the girls left Saturday morning on the school bus to go to the Conrad Hilton hotel in Chicago where they played for the 14th biennial convention of music educators national conference. A large audience was present for the concert, and 2000 people were seated on the floor with many standing.

The program consisted of the numbers, Funiculi - Funicula by Denza Lang; Main Street, U. S. A., Morrissey; Elegy, Wagner; Cat-skills Overture, Williams and Men of Music, King-Walters.

Janet Thompson plays clarinet and Janet Jahn plays bassoon.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Thompson, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Chunn, went to Chicago for the concert Saturday.

Students Learn Gov't Leaders Are Busy People

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—Not all of the young visitors to the capital come to photograph the blossoms of the cherry tree or see the sights. Some come for knowledge.

Such a group was here to learn what makes the government click. They were students from Mount Holyoke College of South Hadley, Mass., and Amherst.

They were critical, but not impolite. They were adults, honor students from the upper classmen political science courses.

They recognized the fact that maybe there was something about the government's operation they did not know and if they had ideas, they confined them to the wheels they interviewed and not to me.

The girls from Mount Holyoke were making their study under Prof. Victoria Schuck, a lovely lady who didn't look the professor type. Some of her kids will return and accept jobs in the government without fee this summer just to get a closer look at politics.

Higher-Ups Are Busy

The Amherst boys were escorted by Earl Latham, who wore a crew cut and didn't look like a "prof," either.

The groups melted after they got here and went the rounds of various offices together. They had a chat with Vice President Nixon, a man so busy he shines his own shoes.

"I know now that the higher-ups in the government must be busy," said Tom Little, an Amherst senior from Scarsdale, N. Y. "I looked at his appointment schedule and I don't see how he ever makes it. I guess he did the best he could with us, but it seemed that all he had time to do was walk through the room."

Tom wants to go to Harvard Law School and maybe wind up with the Department of Justice. Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., left an impression on him. "A man of intelligence," he said, "who knows where he's going and how to get there."

Have Better Understanding

Jim Andrews of Kewanee, Ill., said he never had watched the government at work before.

"All we get is book learning," he said. "Maybe we have been too critical. Those fellows are really busy."

Belle Lifeson, from Hillsdale, N. J., a senior, said she was impressed, too, with the talks she and others had with some of the wheels that run the government. Then she hedged a little.

Of course, she said, "we didn't see them all. But from our three-day visit, I think we have a better understanding of what goes on under the Capitol dome."

The two professors were proud of their charges.

Miss Schuck put it this way: "They are alert. Some of them will be the leaders of tomorrow. I'm a little partial to girls. Maybe we will have a lady president some day."

Subjects like natural law, honor, humility, integrity, thrift, citizenship and alcoholism are just a few of those which provide the basis for lecture discussions given regularly by chaplains to service personnel on posts, ships, bases and stations around the world.

Bachelor Recruits in Armed Forces Now Get a Briefing About Marriage

By PATTI SIMMONS
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—A bachelor recruit in the Navy or Marine Corps may be surprised to hear that marriage and the family are things he's expected to learn about on government time.

Airmen who head for Officer's Candidate School, likewise, get a practical briefing on marriage and its responsibilities.

Both are part of an official armed forces program called Character Guidance. More than one military branch participates in the CG set-up—personnel, medical and legal officers as well as the chaplains.

When you think of doing something for servicemen you usually think of single men, explains Navy Chaplain John H. Craven. But statistics today show that about 50 per cent of Navy and Marine personnel are married. And a lot of others are thinking about it, he adds.

The armed forces approach to wedding bells can be put into this simple sentence: marriage is a "divinely established institution" on the sanctity of which depend the well being of the family and the nation.

Character Guidance stresses that it is part of the divine will that men and women who marry "stay married." It's pointed out to servicemen that in marriage it's important to share interests, not only on the physical level but "on the intellectual and spiritual plane," the last being the most important.

Both the Navy and the Army have experimented with marriage clinics. The former established its first last year, a joint project of the chaplain and medical departments.

It was conducted for Protestant personnel and divided into three phases—(1) for those expecting to marry in the "foreseeable future," (2) for couples contemplating marriage in the near future, and (3) for married couples who needed to work out some marital problem.

For Catholic personnel there have been classes which treat of such subjects as the sacramental nature of marriage, marriage as a contract, and marriage as a part of the Creator's plan to people the earth.

The official Character Guidance approach to the subject of chastity is both outspoken and practical. Where the Air Force presents the subject in an officer's candidate lectures series, the Army GI may get the topic tossed at him in basic training.

CG material sets forth the idea that, today, we do not suffer from "hush-hush" about sex but from the notion that sex must be gratified.

The government has some official advice for servicemen on the subject of chastity. It advises them to "pray." Other suggestions: to avoid smutty talk, filthy magazines, suggestive movies, wrong companions and especially too much alcohol.

The Department of Defense has long realized that a purely military approach to training is not enough. The bully or roughneck isn't what the Army, Navy and Air Force are attempting to turn

KILL WITH CARE

THE STORY: An extortion plot apparently led to the murder of Police Chief Otto Drover in Colorado City just after the wedding of Lieut. Mark Richards, at which Jim Dunn, a private detective, was best man. Atwood had left $4000 wrapped in newspapers at an abandoned filling station on a lonely road. The murder of the chief came after Drover started out to see Atwood. Two persons dressed as "monsters," parading before a local movie house where a horror film was showing, apparently stabbed the chief and then escaped in the resulting confusion.

Mark drove fast without using his siren. He cut over to a side street and swept through a residential area which grew more run-down as they progressed. He nodded toward a huge old house touched with the bright moonlight and said, "The residence of our mayor. At least one floor of it is. The Gaylord Mansfield place. Made into flats now. One of the old timers."

"You conducting a personal tour?" Jim wanted to know. "Or are you just making a mental list of people wealthy enough to be possible victims?"

"That last's an idea," Richards said. "And from what I hear old Mansfield might qualify. He's supposed to be well-to-do."

"Funny," Jim said, "that neither the mayor or the new chief qualified. Or at least they didn't mention getting extortion notes. Would that be because of their official position or because they're broke?"

"Both, maybe. What do you think of Atwood?"

"He's scared. Or was."

"Chief Drover's death will make it easier for someone to force extortion pay-offs."

"Yes. It helped whoever's doing this."

"We'll see. I have the two radio cars on the prowl. One of them's coming along behind us, will close the North Hill Road after we go in. There's only one other way out, by road, and that's a steep unpaved road leading down to the main highway. The other car'll be down there. And there'll be what men I could scare up right away covering the district on foot."

"Look out. There's a car coming from that road. No lights."

Even as he spoke the approaching car snapped on blinding headlights. Mark Richards swore, dimmed his own lights. The car swept past, and Richards tooted his horn twice.

"Have to leave that car to the radio car officers behind," he explained. "I thought I recognized the car though."

The gas pumps had lost their glass containers which once had showed the amount of gasoline. The windows of the station itself were broken, and the front door sagged crazily by a single twisted hinge. High weeds grew up to the edge of the scant amount of paving which remained as a driveway.

Jim said, "I thought there was some sort of package in the drive. The headlights caught it for just a moment."

Mark swung the car around at the road's dead end, backed and completed the turn. Mark began to drive back at a sedate 20 miles an hour.

Jim held his pearl-handled 45 caressingly. It had been with him in many tight places, but he could not remember a time when its bulk had brought more comfort.

"Looks like there's a glow of light in the back room," Richards said.

Richards gunned the motor suddenly, swung the car into the drive, stopped it with a slide of locked wheels. The headlights lit up the place blindingly. Jim had not had to manage the car, so he was out a few seconds ahead of Mark Richards. There was no back entrance to the station.

The two men crossed the sagging treacherous floor with cautious care, reached the partly opened door which led into the station's back room. They paused there a moment before Mark reached out and pushed the door wide.

Their flashlights stabbed into the room, focused on the rickety, greasy table. A candle stuck in a rusty oil can still sent up a little streamer of smoke from its wick.

The two flashlights converged again, illuminated the single sheet of paper, nearly filled with awkwardly scrawled printed characters.

Goodbye Daddy. I killed Chief Drover. So don't punish anyone. I had fun. He told me how. I had fun playing garage too. He told me how. He talked to me. I have made you sad. You will be glad when I change. He was nice and talked to me. Goodbye Daddy.

It was signed in handwriting. Carefully practiced, labored handwriting, "Edward Stone Jr."

Mark Richards moved first. He went carefully through the outer room of the filling station to the driveway. The commanding scream of his signal whistle pierced the summer air.

The most disastrous combination in the world is a narrow mind and a wide mouth.

George Whiteside operated a tannery with 12 or more pits about three miles south and a little west of Eddyville in Pope County in 1876.—(SIU)
